

Contact:

Suellen Brill, Director of Public Relations
Christian Care Communities
(502) 254-4277 or cell (502) 552-5018

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Bowling Green Resident Receives Prestigious Leadership Award
from Christian Care Communities

BOWLING GREEN, KENTUCKY (December 29, 2006) – Mary Scarbrough of Bowling Green is the recipient of Christian Care Communities’ prestigious 2006 Daniel D. Gilbert Employee Servant Leadership Award. The award recognizes Scarbrough’s contributions to Christian Care’s mission and her “front-line role” in caring for residents at Christian Care’s Village Manor health center.

A certified nursing assistant, Scarbrough joined Christian Care’s nursing team in 1996, caring for residents coping with life-changing illness or injuries.

“Mary Scarbrough exemplifies the true spirit of servant leadership,” said Dr. Kirk Alliman, president and chief executive officer of Christian Care Communities. “Her decade of service to older adults and her caring example make her the ideal recipient for the Daniel D. Gilbert Award.”

Christian Care Communities is the largest, not-for-profit provider of social services in Kentucky, primarily serving older adults through its network of retirement communities across the state. Christian Care also serves children and families, individuals with developmental disabilities through its Pathways program, and individuals with acquired brain injuries via its Stepping Stones program. Headquartered in Louisville, Christian Care employs 900 associates who support programs in 20 locations throughout Kentucky.

###

Contact:

Suellen Brill, Director of Public Relations
Christian Care Communities
(502) 254-4277 or cell (502) 552-5018

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Louisville Resident Receives Prestigious Leadership Award
from Christian Care Communities

LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY (December 29, 2006) – Charlotte S. Tharp of Louisville is the recipient of Christian Care Communities’ prestigious 2006 A. B. Stockhoff Award. The award recognizes Tharp’s “visionary leadership” in advancing the mission of Christian Care. Tharp is vice president of mission and outreach for Norton Healthcare in Louisville.

Since 2003, Tharp has served on Christian Care Communities’ Board of Directors. She has served as vice chair of the board and the board’s executive committee and chair of the development committee. In addition, she has served on the Children and Families program task force, chaired Christian Care’s marketing task force, branding work group and strategic planning oversight committee.

“All of us who are associated with Christian Care express our thankfulness and gratitude to Charlotte Tharp for her visionary leadership, service and contributions as a member of our Board of Directors,” said Dr. Kirk Alliman, president and chief executive officer of Christian Care Communities.

Christian Care Communities is the largest, not-for-profit provider of social services in Kentucky, primarily serving older adults through its network of retirement communities across the state. Christian Care also serves children and families, individuals with developmental disabilities through its Pathways program and individuals with acquired brain injuries via its Stepping Stones program. Headquartered in Louisville, Christian Care employs 900 associates who support programs in 20 locations throughout Kentucky.

###

Contact

Suellen Brill, Director of Public Relations
Christian Care Communities
(502) 254-4277 or cell (502) 552-5018

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Hopkinsville Resident Receives Prestigious Broadhurst Award
from Christian Care Communities

Six other Hopkinsville residents honored for years of service

HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY (December 29, 2006) – Ronald Moore of Hopkinsville is the recipient of Christian Care Communities’ prestigious 2006 William A. Broadhurst Employee of the Year Award. The award recognizes Moore’s “contributions to advancing Christian Care’s mission and his years of service in caring for older adults” on Christian Care’s Hopkinsville campus.

Moore is maintenance director of Christian Care’s Hopkinsville campus, which includes the Christian Health Center, Chapel and Friendship House apartments and Chambers Court, The Village and Cox Mill Court garden homes. He has served the organization for 29 years.

“Ronald Moore truly reflects the philosophy and mission of Christian Care Communities,” said Dr. Kirk Alliman, president and chief executive officer of Christian Care Communities. “His personal example of caring makes him the ideal recipient for the William A. Broadhurst Award, named for the Christian Church minister whose example led to the establishment of Christian Care Communities in 1884.

In addition, Mariah Grubbs and Bobbie Young were recognized for their 15 years of service to residents of the Christian Health Center in Hopkinsville. Certified nursing assistants, Grubbs and Young assist Christian Care residents with daily activities of living.

Curtis Boyd, a licensed practical nurse and admissions coordinator for the Christian Health Center, was recognized for 20 years of service to residents and families. Also recognized

Hopkinsville Residents Honored
For Years of Service
Page 2

for 20 years of service were Linda Ferrell and Alfreda Thompson. Ferrell serves as office manager at the Christian Health Center, where she is responsible for all business office operations and processing accounts payable. Thompson is a certified nursing assistant at the health center.

Recognized for 25 years of service was Brenda Sholar, who serves as medical records coordinator at the Christian Health Center, where she is responsible for processing physician progress notes, physical therapy evaluations and medical charts.

Christian Care Communities is the largest, not-for-profit provider of social services in Kentucky, primarily serving older adults through its network of retirement communities across the state. Christian Care also serves children and families, individuals with developmental disabilities through its Pathways program and individuals with acquired brain injuries via its Stepping Stones program. Headquartered in Louisville, Christian Care employs 900 associates who support programs in 20 locations throughout Kentucky.

###

Contact:

Suellen Brill, Director of Public Relations
Christian Care Communities
(502) 254-4277 or cell (502) 552-5018

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Danville Resident Receives Prestigious Volunteer Award
from Christian Care Communities

DANVILLE, KENTUCKY (December 29, 2006) – Timothy B. “Tim” Dexter of Danville is the recipient of Christian Care Communities’ prestigious 2006 Henry and Ruth Lowe Broadhurst Award. The award recognizes Dexter’s “significant volunteer contributions to young people” on Christian Care’s Woodlawn Campus in Danville.

For nearly three years, Dexter has worked energetically with children on Christian Care’s Woodlawn Campus. An active member of the Indian Hills Christian Church, he leads the children’s Sunday School class at the church and assists once a week with on-campus study and worship time. He also has planned special activities and outings for the children, including a hike and picnic for the children to the Kentucky River.

“Tim Dexter exemplifies the true spirit of volunteerism,” said Dr. Kirk Alliman, president and chief executive officer of Christian Care Communities. “He is an extremely positive role model and, through his caring example, he affirms the self-worth of each child, which makes him the ideal recipient for Christian Care’s Henry and Ruth Lowe Award.”

Christian Care Communities is the largest, not-for-profit provider of social services in Kentucky, primarily serving older adults through its network of retirement communities across the state. Christian Care also serves children and families, individuals with developmental disabilities through its Pathways program, and individuals with acquired brain injuries via its Stepping Stones program. Headquartered in Louisville, Christian Care employs 900 associates who support programs in 20 locations throughout Kentucky.

###

Contact:

Suellen Brill, Director of Public Relations
Christian Care Communities
(502) 254-4277 or cell (502) 552-5018

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Florence Residents Receive Prestigious Volunteer Award
from Christian Care Communities

Georgia Nelson of Florence also recognized for years of service

FLORENCE, KENTUCKY (December 29, 2006) – The Rev. Jerry Zehr and the Rev. Diane Zehr of Florence are the recipients of Christian Care Communities’ prestigious 2006 J.S. Hilton Broadhurst Award. The award recognizes the Zehrs “significant volunteer leadership” on behalf of Christian Care Communities.

Co-pastors of Florence Christian Church, the Zehrs have worked to strengthen and grow Christian Care’s Pastoral Care program, helping to ensure spiritual support for Christian Care residents and program participants for years to come. They also have been instrumental in raising funds and awareness for Christian Care’s Pathways Northern Kentucky program, which provides individuals with developmental disabilities community-based alternatives to institutional care. In addition, Diane Zehr has served on Christian Care’s Board of Directors.

“All of us who are associated with Christian Care express our thankfulness and gratitude to Diane and Jerry Zehr for their contributions,” said Dr. Kirk Alliman, president and chief executive officer of Christian Care Communities. “They exemplify the true spirit of volunteerism, making them the ideal recipients for the J.S. Hilton Broadhurst Award.”

In addition, Christian Care Communities recognized Florence resident Georgia Nelson for 15 years of service to Christian Care’s Pathways Northern Kentucky program. A residential manager, Nelson oversees a resident home and assists Pathways program participants with activities of daily living.

-more-

Florence Residents Receive Prestigious Volunteer Award
from Christian Care Communities
Page 2

Christian Care Communities is the largest, not-for-profit provider of social services in Kentucky, primarily serving older adults through its network of retirement communities across the state. Christian Care also serves children and families, individuals with developmental disabilities through its Pathways program, and individuals with acquired brain injuries via its Stepping Stones program. Headquartered in Louisville, Christian Care employs 900 associates who support programs in 20 locations throughout Kentucky.

###

Contact:

Suellen Brill, Director of Public Relations
Christian Care Communities
(502) 254-4277 or cell (502) 552-5018

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Christian Care Communities Names Annual Broadhurst Award Winners

LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY (January 17, 2007) – Terri Reinscheld of Brandenburg, Kentucky is the recipient of Christian Care Communities’ prestigious 2006 William A. Broadhurst Employee of the Year Award. The award recognizes Reinscheld’s “contributions to advancing Christian Care’s mission and her years of service caring for older adults” on Christian Care’s Louisville campus.

Reinscheld is activity director of Christian Care’s downtown Louisville assisted living community, which includes Chapel House and Friendship House. She has served the organization and the 400-plus residents on the Louisville campus for 18 years.

“Terri Reinscheld truly reflects the philosophy and mission of Christian Care Communities,” said Dr. Kirk Alliman, president and chief executive officer of Christian Care Communities. “Her personal example of caring makes her the ideal recipient for the William A. Broadhurst Award, named for the Christian Church minister whose example led to the establishment of Christian Care Communities in 1884.

In addition, Abby Lipsey, a resident of Chapel House in Louisville, received Christian Care’s 2006 Pauline A. Crawford Award, for her “behind-the-scenes volunteer work in advancing the goals and mission of Christian Care.” Lipsey helps to manage Christian Care’s boutique for residents on the Louisville campus.

MORE

Derby City Custom Cycle, 3862 S. Hurstbourne Parkway, received Christian Care Communities’ 2006 Farris Clifton Award, for its “on-going volunteer and outreach activities” on behalf of Christian Care’s Stepping Stones program, which provides specialized treatment and support for individuals with acquired brain injuries.

Christian Care Communities is the largest, not-for-profit provider of social services in Kentucky, serving older adults through its network of retirement communities across the state. Christian Care also serves children and families, individuals with developmental disabilities through its Pathways program and individuals with acquired brain injuries via its Stepping Stones program. Headquartered in Louisville, Christian Care employs 900 associates who support programs in 20 locations throughout Kentucky.

###

Contact:
Suellen Brill, Director of Public Relations
Christian Care Communities
(502) 254-4277 or cell (502) 552-5018

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Somerset Couple Receives Prestigious
Pathways to Dreams Award from Christian Care Communities

LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY (January 17, 2007) – Jeffery and Debbie Dalton of Somerset, Kentucky are the recipients of Christian Care Communities’ prestigious 2006 Pathways to Dreams Award. The award recognizes the Daltons for “opening their hearts, home and lives to individuals with developmental disabilities.”

The Daltons are a home provider for Christian Care Communities’ Pathways Central Kentucky program, which is dedicated to offering individuals with developmental disabilities opportunities to be a part of their local communities. In 1994, the Daltons were the first therapeutic foster care home provider for the Pathways Central Kentucky program.

“Mr. and Mrs. Dalton truly reflect the philosophy and mission of Christian Care Communities,” said Dr. Kirk Alliman, president and chief executive officer of Christian Care Communities. “As advocates for individuals with developmental disabilities, their personal example of caring makes them the ideal recipients for the Pathways to Dreams Award.”

Christian Care Communities is the largest, not-for-profit provider of social services in Kentucky, serving older adults through its network of retirement communities across the state. Christian Care also serves children and families, individuals with developmental disabilities through its Pathways program and individuals with acquired brain injuries via its Stepping Stones program. Headquartered in Louisville, Christian Care employs 900 associates who support programs in 20 locations throughout Kentucky.

####

Contact:

Suellen Brill, Director of Public Relations
Christian Care Communities
(502) 254-4277 or cell (502) 552-5018

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Christian Care Communities Honors Corbin Residents for Years of Service to Families and the Community

CORBIN, KENTUCKY (January 17, 2007) – Christian Care Communities recently honored six Corbin residents for their long-term service to residents of the Christian Health Center in Corbin.

Honored for 15 years of service to residents and families were Charlotte Bowling, Phyllis Jones, Vicki Messer and Kathern Morris. Certified nursing assistants, Bowling and Jones care for and assist Christian Care residents with activities of daily living, including bathing, dressing and feeding. Messer also is a certified nursing assistant as well as medication aide and cosmetologist, assisting residents with hair dressing needs. Morris is a pharmacy technician at the Christian Health Center, where she supports the pharmacy team by conducting daily checks of medical charts, filling prescription orders and delivering medications to the nursing stations.

Recognized for 20 years of dedicated service were certified nursing assistant Carolyn Sparks and registered nurse Rowena Wagers.

“We’re grateful to our six colleagues who are celebrating milestone anniversaries of dedicated, caring service to Christian Care residents and families in the Corbin community,” said Bill Collins, executive director and administrator of the Christian Health Center in Corbin. “Because of their professional abilities and dedication, we’re able to provide residents with the highest quality health care in a comfortable, home-like atmosphere.”

MORE

Christian Care Communities Honors Corbin Residents

Page 2

Christian Care Communities is the largest, not-for-profit provider of social services in Kentucky, serving older adults through its network of retirement communities across the state. Christian Care also serves children and families, individuals with developmental disabilities through its Pathways program and individuals with acquired brain injuries via its Stepping Stones program.

Headquartered in Louisville, Christian Care employs 900 associates who support programs in 20 locations throughout Kentucky.

###